Dear Mr. Stawick:

I am writing in support of the CFTC's Proposed Federal Speculative Position Limits that will reestablish speculative position limits on major energy commodities. This rule will provide stability to the marketplace and help prevent future price bubbles.

The effect of speculation and price bubbles not only adds instability to financial markets, but adversely affects private citizens and the overall economy, for little more than the personal gain of those who manage to speculate successfully.

I'm all for people making a profit, but not at these costs.

Regards,
