As I stated in a fax to your office the proposed regulation change will only drive investment capital out of the US...Below is an exerpt from an email sent recommending just this very thing..... You are going to ruin the investment capital in this country....

Subject: New Forex Regulations

Hi Traders,

Over the past week we've been getting a lot of questions about the new CFTC rules that are being proposed.

As you may have heard, one of these proposed rules is to bring leverage down to 10-to-1, even on the major currency pairs. If this rule were to pass it would affect you if you if you're trading at a registered US Forex broker.

Currently this rule is only being proposed, and hasn't been passed.

Due to these circumstances, many of our smart traders are setting up their accounts through GAIN UK, which provides them with some extra stability.

Gain UK is regulated by the FSA, which is the regulatory authority in the United Kingdom. There are some very crucial benefits that you'll get by setting up your account through GAIN UK.

To open a UK account through GAIN Capital simply click the link below:

GAIN UK is a very large and well capitalized firm. When you open an account through the link above you'll reap all of the great benefits of a UK account:

- Enhance the safety of your funds with a segregated account
- Trade on a stable Metatrader platform with up to 200:1 leverage and the ability to hedge.
- Get complimentary Metatrader hosting for your forex robot
- Make sure your robot is properly setup when you get complimentary robot installation.

To get started on the application click the link below:
