Hi Folks,

Please dont make the 10:1 leverage rule because if you are trying to protect money of people by reducing there risk this is not a great idea.

1. this will restrict the income of good traders
2. US will loose all retail forex traders.
3. If anyone who deserve to earn money will learn to trade first with small amount rather than go and burn his account for a big leverage. i am sure anyone without sense will be trading anyway. It will be a great help if you can consider this and DONT make the 10:1 policy a reality
