Hi

You are proposing to go from 100:1 to 10;1 margin requirements for retail forex traders. Why bother you will be forecing out the little guy. Why don't you just shut it down. How many did you force out when you reduced it from 400:1 tp 100:1? With your next move there will only be a handful left.Again I say why bother with 10:1 , just make it too costly and force everybody out including the broker. Now people will go over seas to less regulated countries.
