Subject: Regulation of Retail Forex

Dear Sir,
With due respect, I wish to draw your attention to the above subject matter.

As far as investors (spot forex traders) are well informed of the inherent risk involved in otc trading by the broker which is usually displayed on their website, it is left for traders to decide what risk approach to adopt.

It will be a denial of privilege to trade on high leverage if we choose to, as far as we know the risks involved.

Going by the decisions of the CFTC, there will total lost of jobs in the otc industry in the US if you implement the rule 10:1 leverage.

Kindly revert your intended plan.

Thanks
Francis Awo
